The Coalition for Physician Well-Being

In response to the need of our healthcare systems, physicians and front-line clinicians through this COVID-19 pandemic, we have organized a Live Virtual CME Conference for July 13-15, 2020. The conference will address current challenges and supply resiliency tools to aid in combating stress and fatigue. In addition, we will share how other healthcare systems have developed processes and programs to ensure support of their team, mentally, physically and spiritually.

Our mission is to promote meaning, purpose and joy in the practice of medicine. The Medicus Integra® Award was conceived and developed by the Coalition for Physician Well-Being, based upon the belief that physician resilience and well-being is not only good for physicians, but is conducive to healthy organizational culture and essential to quality patient care. The Medicus Integra® Award denotes formal recognition of hospitals and healthcare institutions that demonstrate significant, purposeful, ongoing commitment to the well-being of physicians.
